Dear Supporter –

During 2012-13 HAVEN undertook the task of solidifying our agency values. The process by which we selected, defined and implemented these values was thoughtful and focused; ever mindful that our values should encompass our daily work both as an agency and as individuals. More than a mere piece of paper, they tell a story of how we treat those we serve, those we work with and those in the community.

As the chair of the Board of Directors and the agency's CEO, we want to share these values with you and demonstrate just a few of the many ways we have put them into action.

We are INCLUSIVE: We believe in equality. All people deserve dignity, respect and have value.
- HAVEN partnered with Deaf CAN! and Deaf Women's Advocacy Services to develop an online chat program that allows hearing impaired victims to chat live with a crisis counselor. This partnership also allowed us to develop additional resources specifically targeted at this population; including adding ASL videos to our website and developing self-assessment tools geared towards recognizing abuse for the deaf community.

We act with INTEGRITY: We inspire confidence in clients, colleagues and community partners by always acting with fairness, honesty, respect and trust.
- HAVEN has a long history of unqualified financial audits and financial transparency. That was evidenced in this year’s Department of Community Health Victim of Crime Assistance audit, which noted that we are one of the state’s top agencies in terms of our adherence to excellent policies and procedures.
- The McGregor Fund, one of metro Detroit's largest and most esteemed private foundations, continues to invest in our growth, and this year funded a capitalization study. Based on nine balance sheet areas of risk, the report indicated that we need to continue to grow our capital but, overall, are currently well positioned to absorb risk.

We deliver EXCELLENCE: We are driven by our mission, vision and guiding principles.
- We launched a redesigned website engineered by advertising and marketing communications agency, Lowe Campbell Ewald. The website features content about HAVEN programs, mission, leadership, donation options, survivor stories, volunteer opportunities and agency news. The simplified navigation and menus allow site visitors to easily locate assistance and information 24-hours per day. Please visit www.haven-oakland.com to see it for yourself.
- In response to Michigan’s new felony strangulation law, HAVEN co-sponsored a training entitled Techniques for Documenting, Investigating and Prosecuting Strangulation. Conducted by the Prosecuting Attorney’s Association of Michigan and held in conjunction with the Oakland County Coordinating Council Against Domestic Violence, the training was held in April 2013 and was attended by 75 professionals including law enforcement officers, prosecuting attorneys, judges, forensic examiners, victim advocates, medical personnel, and various other professionals.
We pursue BOLD ASPIRATIONS:
We strive to imagine, innovate and create solutions.
We honor the history of the Battered Women’s Movement by demonstrating feminist principles.

• Through our Plant the Seeds of Hope campaign, we continue to work towards our vision of establishing the first Family Justice Center in Michigan. (see page 11)
• On Valentine’s Day HAVEN joined in solidarity with thousands of people from around the world to rise up and move the earth through dance to counter violence against women. The single-day of global action was part of One Billion Rising, coordinated by V-Day, a global activist movement working to end violence against women and girls. The event was designed to invite the community to shake the world into a new consciousness, demonstrating that violence against women and girls is not only a woman’s issue; it’s a human issue.
• In April, the Oakland County Board of Commissioners presented HAVEN with the Crime Victims Services Distinction Award for Professional Innovation in Victim Services.

We cultivate the HUMAN SPIRIT: We behave in a balanced, thoughtful manner that considers every aspect and outcome of our business decisions and behaviors. We strive for a work environment that supports fun, humor and self-care.

• Each year HAVEN relies on the dedication and compassion of over 1,000 volunteers. Whether as an individual or in a group, their tireless dedication allows us to broaden our reach by assisting staff with everything from taking calls on the crisis line - to painting bedrooms - to overseeing children’s activities - to assisting clients with personal protection orders.
• This year HAVEN offered complementary therapies in addition to traditional talk therapy. These approaches included: art experientials, yoga, movement, photo voice and the practice of meditation, and emphasized the interrelationship between mind, body and spirit. Two of HAVEN’s therapists presented at the Michigan Coalition to End Domestic and Sexual Violence (MCEDSV) annual conference in an effort to share these valuable techniques with other agencies assisting victims on their paths from crisis to healing.

About HAVEN

Vision
HAVEN, a nationally recognized nonprofit leader in Oakland County, promotes a world of safe, equal and accountable communities where sexual assault and domestic violence do not exist.

Mission
To eliminate sexual assault and domestic violence and to empower survivors through advocacy and social change in and around Oakland County.

Goals
• Provide comprehensive and culturally sensitive services to child and adult survivors and their families.
• Provide youth intervention services to support respectful, loving, and safe relationship behaviors.
• Provide prevention education and professional development services.
• Work collaboratively with the community to achieve our HAVEN vision.

Guiding Principles
• Intimate partner violence affects all of us.
• Women and girls are disproportionately victimized by their partners, dates, or other perpetrators. Anyone can become victimized by a partner, date or other perpetrator regardless of race, socio-economic status, gender, culture, education or religious beliefs.
• Education at every stage of life is essential to ending intimate partner violence. Everyone needs education on the root causes of abuse so gender inequality and oppression can be examined and confronted.
• All women, children and men have a right to their identities regardless of tradition, cultural norms or gender roles, some of which support and encourage perpetrators’ abusive choices.
• Abuse is a deliberate act of power and control by the perpetrator, and the survivor does not provoke, enjoy nor deserve it.
• Survivor-centered services honor survivors as experts of their own experiences.
• All people have the right to live without fear.
HAVEN Programs
What we do and who we help

Prevention Education
Trained educators work with young people, and their teachers and parents, to equip them with the tools to make better choices, to build relationships based on mutual respect, and to understand what consent means. Educators also provide professional training to health care providers, law enforcement, clergy, and members of the general public on the dynamics of domestic violence, sexual assault and the root causes of these issues.

Crisis and Support Line
The Crisis and Support Line is open around the clock, 365 days per year. The support line provides crisis intervention, understanding and support, referrals and information to those affected by domestic violence and sexual assault.

Residential Program
Our Residential Program is Oakland County’s only 24-hour emergency shelter exclusively for domestic violence and sexual assault victims and their children.

Social Action Program
Advocates provide support and education for victims moving through the legal system. First Responders provide immediate crisis intervention and emotional support for victims and their families at Oakland County hospitals and police stations after an assault has occurred.

START (Safe Therapeutic Assault Response Team)
Forensic Nurse Examiners and First Responders provide a comprehensive forensic medical exam and compassionate emotional support for victims of sexual assault.

Counseling Program
The non-residential Counseling Program serves children and adults that have been affected by domestic violence and sexual assault. Specialized groups and individual counseling are provided at no charge to survivors.

Volunteer and Intern Program
Volunteers actively assist HAVEN clients through direct and indirect support in all HAVEN programs, and in 2013 contributed 6,819 hours of service in HAVEN programs. Interns receive practical experience in domestic violence prevention, sexual assault treatment, prevention education, community outreach, administration, research, and program development.
HAVEN Success Stories

An Outlet to Heal and Grow

Through the Creative Healing Workshop series, survivors of domestic and sexual violence had unique opportunities to process and express their wide range of emotions associated with their trauma. Participants experienced a sense of empowerment and growth, and several sent notes of gratitude like the sentiments below.

Justice Served

Carmen* was a young woman who bravely confronted her ex-boyfriend in court after he was accused of stalking her. A HAVEN Court Advocate in our Social Action Program attended hearings with Carmen and her parents, providing all of them with reassurance and resources. After Carmen’s ex-boyfriend pled guilty to felony aggravated stalking, her parents sent a note of appreciation to the HAVEN staffer, which read, “As parents, we never wanted our daughter to ever experience the pain she has had to go through. This terrible time in her life was made much easier as the direct result of your commitment and hard work. We will always remember your willingness to help us in our time of need.”

A Team Effort

Kendra* was beginning the process of divorcing her abusive partner when she contacted HAVEN. After years of torment at the hands of her ex, Kendra was able to gain a sense of safety and empowerment as HAVEN court advocates helped her to obtain a personal protection order (PPO) and supported her through the legal process. Kendra also started to heal and process the abuse while working with a HAVEN counselor. She recently relayed her gratitude, stating, “Police, court employees, counselors in the field… They could all benefit from spending just one day watching what HAVEN does with so much integrity and respect of others’ lives. You are ALL amazing.”

HAVEN Programming Updates

At HAVEN, we envision a world free from rape and violence and work relentlessly to make our vision a reality. Toward this end, we served even more people through intervention and prevention programs to end domestic violence and sexual assault during 2012/2013. We expanded some of our programs in response to client needs. We also took time to share what we know with others to improve services in the field of violence against women and girls.

Service expansions occurred in nearly every HAVEN program during 2012/2013:

- HAVEN's START program director began providing forensic photography documentation to victims of domestic violence.
- HAVEN created a Legal Services Committee which convenes attorneys who provide pro bono services for victims of domestic violence and sexual assault. These attorneys are especially helpful to victims who do not qualify for other free or low cost legal services in Oakland County.
- At our residential program partners including Mercy Place, Lakeshore Legal Aid, Jewish Vocational Services, and Community Housing Network, offered co-located services to survivors.
- Children staying in our residential program were introduced to new fruits and vegetables while spending time in our organic garden.
- HAVEN's Counseling and Social Action programs collaborated with an attorney to provide seminars on “What victims need to know when considering a divorce or separation”.
- A meditation room was created for clients seeking to restore inner balance. Small counseling groups also used the room to learn and practice meditation techniques. Yoga designed for survivors also was offered weekly at HAVEN.

At HAVEN, we seek opportunities to share what we know about ending violence with others who share our goals. Toward this end, in 2012/2013:

- HAVEN partnered with the National Organization for Men Against Sexism to co-host the 38th National Conference on Men & Masculinity, “Forging Justice: Creating Safe, Equal, and Accountable Communities.” An exciting line-up of speakers from around the United States shared important messages about social justice work to end men’s violence against women.
- HAVEN’s Social Action program director served on a statewide Jurisdictions of Excellence taskforce through the Prosecuting Attorneys Association of Michigan. This initiative was started by Governor Snyder to make Michigan’s cities safer.
- HAVEN partnered with the Oakland Mediation Center to train mediators on recognizing and screening for domestic violence. As a result of this partnership, HAVEN was invited to join the State Court Administration Office taskforce, which is reviewing and rewriting the protocol for mediators who need to assess better for domestic violence.
- HAVEN formed the Farmington Hills High Risk Response Team to increase training and earlier identification of domestic violence cases through risk assessment. This team received a Domestic Violence Prevention Award from the Oakland County Coordinating Council Against Domestic Violence in October 2013.
Capital Campaign

Since 2010 HAVEN has diligently strived towards a new, more effective way to treat and prevent domestic violence and sexual assault. We are proud to share that in the fall of 2013 we reached a significant milestone towards that goal by successfully securing half of the $5 million in funding necessary to build our new facility! This extraordinary milestone is only possible because of your generous support and the commitment of hundreds of caring community members.

You may recall that in November 2012 we purchased six acres of land near the Oakland County Complex in Pontiac. Since that time we have worked closely with our architectural firm, Stukey Vitale, and have selected Frank Rewold & Son as our construction manager to begin the process of transforming this land into HAVEN’s new home. 801 Vanguard Drive will soon be home to a 36,000 square foot facility that provides comprehensive services for victims, their children and the community.

We also have made great strides to build and strengthen partnerships with law enforcement, legal services, health care providers, employment resources, transitional housing agencies and many others in order to bring more services directly to our clients. Based on a best practice model, these partnerships allow us to continue to strive towards our goal of transforming the way we help victims of domestic and sexual violence. Our new facility will literally wrap victims and their families in the help they need to transition from fear and dependency to safety and independence.

Far from just bricks and mortar, HAVEN’s new home will transform the way we work and, more importantly, the way we assist victims of domestic and sexual violence.

Should you have any questions about our ongoing efforts or ways to support our work, please contact Rachel Decker, Director of Development and Capital Campaign at 248-322-3703 or rdecker@haven-oakland.org.

Your Support is the Root of Hope

Safety is a fundamental human need, as much as food and shelter. The new home for HAVEN will provide the foundation to meet that need now and for future generations. At the same time, this new home is more than just a building. It is a new way for HAVEN to work. It is a way that will allow us to not only make a greater impact on the lives of those we treat and educate, but also on the lives of our entire community. This will put us closer to our ultimate goal of eliminating domestic violence and sexual assault for good.

Amounts are based on cumulative giving from October 1, 2012 through September 30, 2013 above $250. While we are grateful for all gifts, space does not allow us to list every donation we receive. HAVEN also gratefully recognizes the support of our more than 629 in-kind donors, whose donations of items and services totaled more than $255,500. Philanthropic support is very important to us and we make every effort to ensure there are no omissions or misspellings. Please forgive any oversights and contact us so that we may amend unintentional errors.
